

Hard-working siblings return to their roots.

Hannah Druett and Matt Tewksbury are a determined pair. They kindly invited me to the farm where they both grew up to tell me more.

They shared a country upbringing on their parents' sheep farm, attending Hillesley Primary and Katharine Lady Berkeley's followed by separate university lives, travelling and working experiences. Now choosing to be back in the area, each with their own business, they also work together to help Val and John their parents, run the family farm.

Hannah completed her 18 month training to be a Driving Instructor passing each section first time, which is unusual. Recently she purchased the coolest car and now offers expert tuition in the area. It is a great place for new drivers to learn hill starts!
The unique well recognised LDC system is used nationally and promotes economic as well as safe driving.

Matt owns DHF Contracting

He provides knowledge and experience in all manner of traditional country skills. His expertise in stone walling, patios, driveways etc has earned him membership of The Guild of Master Craftsmen. This status is continually assessed and has to be backed up by references from previous customers.

Matt also utilises the farm's tractors and machinery when required for small-holding work. This ranges from haymaking to hedge laying.
