

Shaun Lloyd

celebrates 18 years of working in business in W-u-E. He established Wotton Tyre & Exhaust Centre Ltd in 1991.

Shaun is originally from Charfield, where he attended the local Primary School. He now lives in Winterbourne with his wife. They married just last year.

Originally he worked in Bristol for a major tyre company. On one of his deliveries to Wotton he became aware of an opportunity to start his own garage.

It is still in the same location, although it has grown considerably since those days.

In 1993 Jack, Shaun's father who had been working at Oldbury, came to join Shaun.

In addition there are three others employed at the Centre. There is a happy buzz about the place, as cars and parts are being seen to during my visit.

It is no wonder they are so busy as they have more than 70 local businesses and many private customers on the books!

Their professional service is well known in the area despite them being hidden away with no passing traffic!
