

What an idyllic setting, in the heart of Nympsfield. The scented red roses, vibrantly showing off on the patio! Allison Neave, the Landlady, and her mother Jan welcome me in and enthusiastically show me around this beautiful and ancient Inn.

Allison and her family have been here just six months and they have already started to put their mark on the place!

Bookings are advised for their popular events, once a month, on Friday or Saturday nights.

The Speciality Nights, "Come fly with me," whisk the visitor's palate to foreign destinations! The menu is mouth-watering. Also it is pleasing to hear that Allison has embraced the essence of catering- to provide the highest quality food at sensible affordable rates. Meals come as priced.

Traditional fayre is on offer. Salads, Lasagne, and so on. However for the more adventurous, a Pan - Fried Blue Marlin Steak slow cooked in Lemon Butter topped with prawns, or Shark

Steaks, Ostrich, Wild Boar, or Crocodile may be more tempting!

Allison is very keen to welcome families. "The menu is for all."

Children can have a reduced portion at just £4.95 for a main course. There is something for everyone here—

Stunning desserts on a large glass platter, traditional ales from local breweries, Sunday lunch, with 4 roasts to choose from! Lite bites, Sandwiches....The Farmer Boys Feast is a local favourite. It really fills your boots!

The Inn offers, 3 rooms for B&B at £60 a room per night, a cot, children's cutlery, a large, safe, newly refurbished Play area, close to the Inn, overlooking fields and plenty of parking. Eat drink and be merry!
